

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved my family's time at home. We use to receive upwards of 2 calls per night, some even after the 9:00 pm deadline. Since the enactment of Indiana's law, the unsolicited phone calls we have received have dropped to zero. I am proud of Indiana for enacting this law and would hate to see it's effectiveness diminished.
